Puttlitz Essay On Bricks Wins In Greene County

Karl Joseph Puttlitz, 17, of 33 Van Gaasbeek Street, a senior at St. Patrick's Academy, Catskill, took first place in the Greene County essay contest held in conjunction with the Hudson-Champlain celebration of New York's Year of History, it has been announced.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Adalbert Puttlitz.

The young man, a carrier for The Freeman, will receive a gold medal, certificate and other prizes at commencement exercises June 21.

Puttlitz said today that he has been accepted by State University, Farmingdale, L. I., for the fall semester, where he will study chemical technology.

In State Contest Now

The Puttlitz essay, entitled "The Brick Making Industry on the Hudson River," is automatically entered in the state-wide contest. Winners in the state contest will be announced within a couple of weeks. Top essay will win a two-week trip to The Netherlands by KIM airliner.

In his essay Puttlitz described the brick industry in imaginative form, one of the bricks talking, telling about his ancestry, how the industry has evolved, its effect on the growth of industry and population in the Hudson Valley area, etc.

Earlier this year he placed second in Greene County in an essay contest in connection with handicapped people. The essay contest, sponsored by the President's Committee for the Handicapped, on the national level, was sponsored in Catskill by the Knights of Columbus, Arch Masons and Lions Club.

Puttlitz received an award of $10 for second prize.

Athlete, Poet Also

The talented young man was co-captain of the 1958 football team at St. Patrick's, playing at halfback and quarterback. He is also president of the senior class.

Early this year a poem of his, "Temptation," was accepted for publication in the National Anthology of High School Poetry published by the National High School Poetry Association.

Only 72,000 RNs Practicing Now

Marriage, Motherhood, Money Rank High
As Causes of Nurse Shortage in State

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Only 72,000 registered nurses are practicing in New York State and indications are that the shortage will grow.

That means you may not be waited upon as much as you might like if you become a hospital patient.

Few bright spots were found in the nursing picture, surveyed by Associated Press member newspapers.

Vacancies for RNs are listed in most big-city hospitals.

The 18 city-operated hospitals in Manhattan, The Bronx and Staten Island have vacancies for 600 registered nurses. Two thousand other places have been filled by trainees or aides.

Three Albany hospitals say they could use 20 to 40 per cent more registered nurses; Jamestown and Fulton need 25 per cent more; Binghamton, Herkimer and Lockport are about 15 per cent short.

In Buffalo, three hospitals have closed wards in recent years because of seasonal fluctuations in their nursing staffs. Two small wards were closed at Rochester General in 1953 and have not been opened since.

However, full staffs are reported at Auburn, Elmira, Oswego and Rome.

The Western New York Hospital Council, representing 35 institutions, says there is no shortage in its area, although a spokesman for the State Nurses Assn. says there is.

Both the association and the New York State League of Nursing say the shortage is growing.

Various reasons are given. Marriage and motherhood rank high. So does money. The starting pay for general-duty nurses ranges from $3,000 to about $3,750 in most areas.

Many nurses find less grueling jobs with better hours, in doctors' offices, industrial clinics and in public health work.

To meet the shortage, hospitals are using nurses aides, who are trained on the job, or practical nurses, who have to put in one year of study. Registered nurses study at least two years—generally three—at hospital schools.

Thousands of volunteers pitch in at hospitals, keeping records, handling mail, taking temperatures, carrying supplies, and taking flowers and telegrams to patients.

Because of the shortage of nurses, patients are not getting the extra attentions they like—such as sympathetic hand-holding. But the president of the State Nurses Assn., Miss Esther Thompson, says the shortage is affecting "the quality of care," not the efficiency of hospitals.

Medical and educational authorities, trying to attract more women into the field, get this advice from nurses: "Boost wages first."

Calls Pay Major Cause

Mrs. Olga Fessenden, executive director of the state association's District 13 in New York, claims that "pay is the major cause of the nurse shortage."

Scholarships help attract youngsters. Each year the state offers 300 scholarships worth $300 to $500. Thirty more are awarded annually for a year's graduate study. Hospitals, medical and nursing groups, hospital auxiliaries, service clubs and fraternal organizations offer hundreds more.

However, there also is a shortage of training facilities. A Board of Regents study group said facilities for 6,765 freshmen would be needed next year. But only 6,049 places were planned. This shortage also is expected to increase.

Two-year community colleges offer one solution.

Hope for Future

The Orange County community college at Middletown graduated its first nurses in 1953. The Board of Regents is expected to approve nursing courses for the New York City community college and the Dutchess County college at Poughkeepsie. However, classes may not open for a year or two.

Authorities also cast hopeful glances at the large number of World War II babies, now teenagers, as a source of future

Appellate Court Rules Yates Will Not for Probate

The Appellate Division in Albany Tuesday unanimously agreed that the will of Margaret Gray Yates, an 84-year-old Kingston spinster who left more than $100,000 should not be admitted to probate. The court ruled there was no proof how or by whom Miss Yates' will was drawn on November 24, 1956.

Miss Yates was a patient at Kingston Hospital at the time the document was signed 23 days before her death.

Under the will she left her entire estate to Frederick Y. Borden of Cumberland, Md., a nephew who was named executor. Another nephew, Winchell G. Yates of Wheeling, W. Va., and a niece, Josephine Yates Anderson of Spring Lake, N. J., contested the document.

Probate of the document had been denied in Ulster County Surrogate's Court in 1957 on the grounds the document was not properly witnessed and Miss Yates did not state the papers she signed were her will.

At the jury trial the contestants were represented by Connelly and Connelly and Arthur A. Davis Jr. and John E. Edgar appeared for proponents.

Statement Of Reid on Dismissal

Joseph Reid of Rosendale issued the following statement today (June 10th, 1959):

"Justice Greenberg's dismissal of the sealed indictment has left Ulster County citizens with a number of unanswered questions. For example, why did Senator Tompkins make this unusual legal move? Did he do it on his own judgment? Did someone high in State Government order him to ask for the dismissal of the sealed indictment? If so, who and why?"

"Surrogate Gaffney's letter of resignation has raised questions. Why did he resign? His statement to the press mentioned 'rumors' and publicity attendant upon his appearance before the Special Grand Jury. What rumors about him? What publicity about him?"

"Ashby was indicted, tried and convicted. Steuding pleaded guilty, both with due process. What name was in the sealed indictment? Why was it dismissed? Do we have one law for Ashby and Steuding and another for 'Mr. X' of the sealed indictment?"

"Senator Tompkins had the confidence of all Ulster County citizens. Early in his work here he quickly dispelled the 'white-wash' rumors by his energetic and brilliant legal work. But where do we go from here?"

"What are the taxpayers to understand? Little fish get caught; Big fish get away?"

"The astounding events in the Court House on Tuesday transcend party politics. Are the elected leaders of the two major political parties condoning such a policy by their silence on this issue which has now been brought forcibly to the forefront in public opinion? Surely, the people who pay taxes and rent for the services they expect from elected and appointed officials are entitled to answers to the questions that are now unanswered in the minds of many of our citizens. Rosendale Favors
Water Bond; Vote
Is 61-32 Tuesday

There were a very light turnout Tuesday when only 108 Rosendale village residents appeared to cast their vote on a $55,000 bond issue proposition for improvements to the village water system.

The bond issue was approved by a vote of 61 for the proposition and 32 in opposition. Fifteen ballots were void.

The proposal was for authorization to issue $55,000 in water bonds for improvements to the water system at a cost not to exceed the amount of the bond issue. The engineer's estimate for the proposed work was $52,110.

Voting was conducted at the village room in Rosendale, firehouse Tuesday from 5 to 9 p. m.

Included in the proposal is the replacement of small water mains to give better service and additional pressure, installation of regulating valves and additional hydrants and extension of service.

The next step will be advertising for bids for the work.

There will be a meeting of the Rosendale village board Thursday at 8 p. m. at the village room in Rosendale Firehouse.

The total of $21,359,068.02 is the share of state-collected motor vehicle fees for the three months ending March 31, 1959, which is being returned to the counties in accordance with the state highway law. The law provides that 25 per cent of the fees collected under the vehicle traffic law, exclusive of application fees and service charge for special plates, from residents of counties be returned to local government.

The money is deposited by counties in the county road funds, from which expenditures for construction and maintenance of county road systems are made. The money paid to the City of New York, a total of $6,567,466.11, is to be credited to the city's general fund for construction and maintenance of city streets, highways and parkways.

Checks On Way

Checks are being mailed to the county fiscal officers and to the treasurer of the City of New York.

Ulster County's share in the motor vehicle tax receipts is $222,115.44, while Greene County's share is $69,937.58. Townships in Ulster County will share in $144,965.55 of the state aid for county and town highway purposes, while $55,751.40 will go to the county. Communities in Greene County will share in $79,755.83 of the State Highway aid, and Greene County will receive $29,159.40. Greene County's share of the motor vehicle tax receipts is $69,937.58.

Provisions of Law

Levitt said the law provides that towns may receive the difference between the amount of a tax of 1½ mills on actual property valuation and the sum of $150 for each mile of highway in the town, but not less than $75 per mile. Where the levy is less than the amount of 1½ mills but equal to the amount of $75 for each mile of highway, aid is paid at the $75 per mile rate, to all other towns the state aid payment is in the amount equal to the amount of the levy.

State financial aid for county highway purposes is allotted on a matching basis — the state matches county appropriations for construction or improvement of county roads up to $30 per mile.

County, Areas to Get $422,832 From State

Ulster County communities will share to the extent of $422,832.39 in the state distribution of annual payment in state aid for county and town highway purposes, and in the distribution of motor vehicle tax receipts, according to State Comptroller Arthur Levitt.

Greene County's share will be $178,852.81, and Columbia County will receive a total of $215,364.58. Dutchess County's share will be $401,982.65.

Comptroller Levitt announced distribution of annual payment of $8,528,313.62 in state aid for county and town highway purposes, and also distribution of $21,359,068.02 of motor vehicle tax receipts to counties of the state and the City of New York for the counties comprising the City.

Protest Clabbing

"We vigorously protest the brutal clubbing of the defenseless strikers by the police," he said in a statement. "And we call upon Mayor (Robert F.) Wagner to investigate and take immediate action against the policemen responsible for these outrageous attacks."

The brief flareup occurred at a medical school graduation ceremony near one of the seven hospitals struck by non-professional workers.

The academic procession was made up of the faculty of New York Medical College and 123 students who were to receive degrees. They marched three blocks down Fifth Avenue in 90-degree heat in academic robes, and the hospital pickets gradually joined the end of the procession.

Newburgh Mayor Must Face
'Court' for Lack of Beard

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor William D. Ryan of Newburgh handed out wooden nickels here Tuesday and in turn was handed a "summons" for refusing to wear a beard.

All this came about as a result of the forthcoming celebration of Newburgh's 250th anniversary, during the week beginning July 5.

Ryan already was in hot water with his fellow citizens at Newburgh for refusing to grow a beard, or at least don a false one, in support of his own proclamation requiring male residents to do so in honor of the celebration.

He had been "arrested" once at home for his beardlessness. Tuesday as he handed out wooden nickels at a conference of New York mayors—the nickels being another stunt to publicize the celebration — four "Keystone Kops" from Newburgh descended upon him.

Their leader, Ingham Stubley, a celebration official, handed Ryan a "summons" directing him to appear at a kangaroo trial in the street opposite the Newburgh City Hall at 8 p. m. Friday.

Ryan warmed up with his defense in advance. In inviting other mayors to the anniversary blowout, he explained that his duties often include kissing babies.

A beard, he said, obviously would bring complaints from the babies—"especially those over 21 years of age."

U. S. Rejects Soviet Proposal On New Time Limit for Berlin

Bonn Chief, Aide Confer On Problem

BONN, Germany (AP) — Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer met privately for an hour and 45 minutes today in what looked like a showdown in their open quarrel about Adenauer's decision to remain chancellor.

Informants said Adenauer invited Erhard to the chancellery. Erhard had said Tuesday he was not taking any initiative about seeing the 83-year-old Adenauer.

Nothing Made Public

What went on behind closed doors was not made public. Erhard did not talk to reporters.

The West German government's portly No. 2 man drove to the chancellery for the first meeting since Adenauer decided last week not to step into the nation's presidency.

Erhard had been the favorite to take over the government. His decision to fight, on his return from a visit to Washington, confronted Adenauer with the sharp challenge to his political supremacy since he took office a decade ago.

The big question was whether Erhard could muster enough support in the ruling Christian Democratic party to force the Adenauer to loosen his iron grip.

Big Vote Getter

As economic minister and the architect of West Germany's post-war recovery, Erhard is considered one of the party's biggest vote getters.

But Adenauer was strong enough last week to win the reluctant consent of the party's parliamentary caucus to his change of plans.

Erhard conferred until early this morning with Heinrich Krone, Christian Democratic floor leader, Hermann Hoecherl, the chief of the party's Bavarian branch, and Willi Rasner, party business manager.

Asked if he would resign as economic minister, Erhard replied, "That depends."

Seven Pickets Are Arrested After Clash at Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Fifty policemen, swinging nightsticks, and about 100 pickets clashed Tuesday in the first outbreak of mass violence in the month-old hospital strike.

Seven pickets were arrested. No serious injuries were reported.

Leon Davis, president of the striking union, called for an investigation.

Offer Seen As Move to Halt Talks Gromyko to Give Details to Big 3

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union has proposed to the Western powers a one-year moratorium in the Berlin crisis—provided the West agrees to begin working out a German settlement on Soviet terms.

A U.S. spokesman said the proposal—which would put the West under a new deadline—was "totally unacceptable" and must have been introduced by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko "in order to bring about the breakdown" of the Big Four conference.

Sees Talks as Useless

Andrew H. Berding, assistant secretary of state, making public the Soviet proposal which was advanced at a secret session Tuesday, reported the Western reaction today at a news conference.

Berding said that "obviously there is no point in going on with the conference" on the basis of these proposals.

Gromyko, after his move at the secret session at the residence of U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Tuesday, got agreement to a formal Big Four session today. He served notice he would present the proposal there—meaning he would make it public.

Refuses Written Statement

Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, asked for a written statement of the plan. Gromyko refused to provide it.

Berding said the proposal "reintroduces a time limit, one year, into the Berlin situation and also reintroduces the element of threat."

Describes Proposal

The Soviets originally had proposed on last Nov. 27, a six-month time limit which the West called an ultimatum.

Berding said the proposal as presented by Gromyko covered these general lines:

"The Soviet Union would accept the temporary maintenance of certain Western occupation rights in West Berlin for a one-year period. 'During this period an all-German committee of the (Communist) German Democratic Republic and the (West) German Federal Republic on a parity basis should work out the problem of reunification, agree on the principles of a peace treaty and facilitate the development and broadening of contacts, between the GDR and GFR.'"

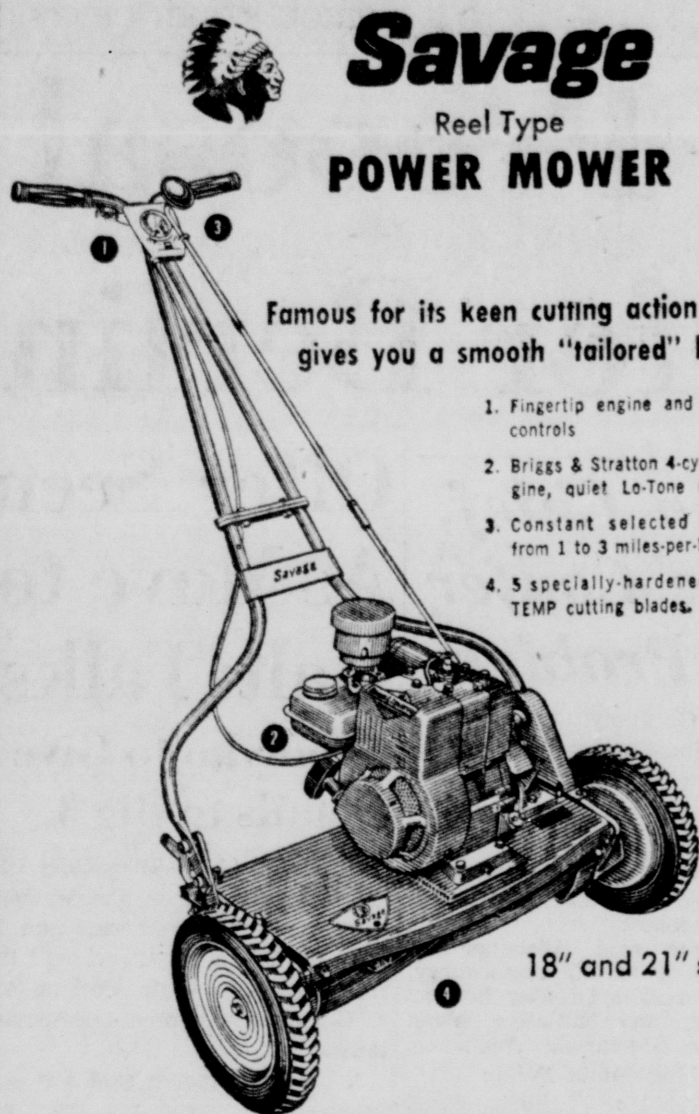

Gromyko, Berding said, declared the one-year time limit was necessary to prevent the West German government from delaying indefinitely the successful completion of a peace treaty.

Continuing his report on the Gromyko statement, Berding said:

Rocky, Steering Group to Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller will meet with the Empire State's newly formed bipartisan Congressional Steering Committee Thursday.

Rockefeller will be in town to address the Capital Hill Club, comprised of Republican congressmen and their top assistants.

The talk has been boomed as Rockefeller's first step toward a possible Republican presidential nomination in 1960. Some observers say the invitation was extended so the GOP lawmakers could get a first-hand glimpse of Rockefeller.

The steering committee meeting will be the fourth since the group was formed at the suggestion of Rockefeller to press New York's economy and welfare in Washington.

PSC Authorizes Fare Increase by Harriman Buses

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission today authorized the Hudson Transit Corp. of Harriman to raise its basic bus fare to 3.3 cents a mile from the present 2.7 cents.

Fares for short trips, now 10 or 15 cents, will be a uniform 20 cents.

The per-mile fare is for multi-zone trips.

Routes affected are in Sullivan, Orange, Rockland and Ulster counties.

No change was announced in the company's $1.50 fare between New York City and Suffern.

The commission authorized the increases on three days notice to the public. The company expects an additional $20,500 revenue from the higher fares, which, it said, were required to enable it to continue adequate service.

Woman Is Left $130,000; Hardly Knew Benefactor

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Miss Olive E. Towne, 63, of Cleveland has inherited nearly $130,000 from a first cousin whom she apparently never knew.

William T. Corkhill, 75, an electrician, died last January without making a will. Authorities found more than $130,000 in a dozen savings banks and over $10,000 in cash at his home.

He reportedly inherited most of it from his father, a locksmith, and from an aunt.

Judge Michael Rogers of Surrogate's Court ruled Tuesday that Miss Towne, a retired insurance company employee, is the only heir to Corkhill's money, $129,828.

A lawyer found her after searching five months for relatives closer than two second cousins living in Rochester.

Miss Towne reportedly had tried to contact Corkhill in 1936, but had been unable to find him.

Man Is Charged With Arson, Wave Of Fires Cited

EAST BLOOMFIELD, N. Y. (AP)—A third-degree arson charge has been placed against Albert Ward, 34, in a wave of barn fires that caused estimated losses of $200,000.

Ward, a factory worker and father of three small children, was arrested Tuesday after police followed him for five hours as he drove, apparently aimlessly, over rural roads.

Fires destroyed seven barns in Ontario, Wayne and Yates counties during the past month. Livestock, farm equipment and crops were lost in the flames.

Ward waived a preliminary examination at his arraignment and was ordered held for the Ontario County grand jury. The losses in the fires were estimated by police.

$198,730 to Be Paid State as Delinquent Taxes

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Delinquent taxpayers have volunteered to pay the state $198,730 in personal income taxes.

Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy said Tuesday that 1,852 persons who failed to file returns in past years have come forward and are making their payments in installments.

Murphy said the state's new withholding tax instituted last April had made it difficult for persons to conceal their incomes.

He said those who were making voluntary payments were doing so to avoid prosecution.

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP)—The 1961 state convention of the Lions Club will be held in Buffalo.

About 1,800 district delegates attending the 36th annual state convention also chose eight district governors Tuesday.

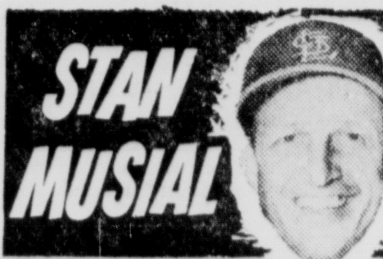

They are: Glenn Williams of Phoenix; Frank Dabis, Sheridan; Harold Smith, Ithaca; Joseph Richardson, Watertown; Thomas Kelly, Amenia; Karl Kirchner, South Orangetown; Richard Sprout, Ridgewood; and Frank Firth, Riverhead.

The 1960 meeting site, announced last year, will be Fallburgh, in Sullivan County.

Flames Destroy Hall

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Flames wrecked the 90-year-old Allied Hall in South Buffalo Tuesday night. Firemen put the loss at $25,000. Two firefighters suffered minor injuries. The cause of the fire has not yet been determined.

The two-story frame building, formerly used for political rallies and other meetings, had been unused for the past three years.

MVB Says More Cars Registered

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Motor vehicle registrations in New York State are running ahead of last year's record totals, the Motor Vehicles Bureau reported today.

First-quarter registrations this year totaled 4,467,021, a gain of 97,217 over the same period of 1958.

At the end of last year, a record 5,054,678 motor vehicles had been registered in the state. A motor vehicles spokesman said the upswing in first-quarter registrations indicated that record would be topped at the end of 1959.

The first quarter includes the general re-registration period. The totals will be swelled during the rest of the year by registration of new vehicles and used ones not registered when sold.

Upstate GOPers Just Can't Agree

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—The Republican chairman and the U.S. representative in Niagara County disagree about whom their party should nominate for president.

Rep. William E. Miller (R-NY) said in Washington recently that he plans a campaign to round up New York delegates for Vice President Nixon.

However, the Niagara County GOP chairman, Edmund H. Brown, said Tuesday that the county organization "will be solidly behind Gov. Rockefeller, if he is a candidate."

Rep. Miller represents the 40th Congressional District, which comprises Niagara County and part of Erie. Two delegates represent the district at the GOP conventions.

Brown said that in the past Erie County got one delegate and Niagara one.

"It has been the custom," he said, "for the Erie and Niagara chairmen to agree amicably on delegates and I see no reason for any interruption next year in this practice."

The Erie County chairman, Ralph A. Lehr, declined to comment.

Volunteer firemen from several companies will attend the sessions to be held each Wednesday night for the next 10 weeks. Deputy Chief Harold Sanford of the Kingston department will be instructor.

Donald Williamson was a visitor in Highland Friday.

Mrs. Madeline Ronk, a state Rebekah lodge officer, was in Bearsville Thursday night to take part in an installation.

August Zimmerman and George Ronk will be in charge of the cooking of the barbecue at the Highland Masonic Temple Sunday afternoon.

Clintondale's district school will close for the vacation Friday, June 19.

Boy Scout News Hurley Pack 20 Observes Theme

Recently Cub Pack 20 of Hurley held its monthly pack meeting at Hurley Number 4 School.

The meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, Den 4, in conjunction with the monthly theme, "Musical Hoedown," presented their rendition of "She'll Be Coming Around the Mountain" with Ralph Hoffman at the piano and the rest of the boys and their den chief playing the instruments they made during the month.

Cubmaster William S. Beutel presented John Tweedy with a Webelos Badge, Number 14 for the Pack. Mrs. Viola Tweedy was presented with the Webelos pin for mothers. Certificates of Appreciation were awarded to Mrs. Martha Beutel, Mrs. Tweedy, Mrs. Elva Hoffman, Mrs. Sarah Bushnell, Mrs. Joan Cashdollar, Mrs. Mary Ellen Whistance, Mrs. Bernice Anner, and Mrs. Margaret Hunter, Den Mothers of Pack 20.

A picnic committee will meet Friday, 7:30 p. m. at the home of Oliver Tweedy to discuss plans for the forthcoming annual picnic to be held Sunday, June 21, at 2 p. m. in the new park behind Hurley Reformed Church.

Cubbers and parents were reminded of the Cub Scout Day at Camp Tri-Mount near East Jewett, on Saturday, Aug. 1.

Den mothers retiring were reminded to check that all boys have received awards due them, and if not, to contact John Hoffman, advancement chairman. Parents of presently registered Cub Scouts and those of future Cub Scouts in the fall, were reminded that most of the present pack committee is retiring and replacements are needed.

Many of the present committeemen and den mothers will assist the newcomers. The purpose of the pack is twofold: first, it teaches the boys of the age, eight through 11, how to work together, how to make things with their hands, how to work for advancements, and how to be good sports; and secondly, it prepares the boys for their advancement into the Boy Scout Troop. Pack 20 has graduated 92 per cent of the boys completing the full Cub Scout program, into Troop 20.

Cub Scouts and parents are reminded that the June picnic and the Cub Scout Day at Camp Tri-Mount are the pack meetings for June and July.

Critic Writes Play

NEW YORK (AP)—An untitled comedy by TV critic John Crosby has been acquired for Broadway presentation next season. The sponsors are William Darrid and Eleanor Saidenberg, who presented "The Disenchanted" this year.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—With the Voice of Firestone silenced, the last bastion of musical culture on television is the Ed Sullivan Show. At least, Sullivan often hires opera stars and permits them to mix an aria into his weekly potpourri.

Mourned by Fans

Demise of the popular musical show, which the networks felt wasn't popular enough, was loudly mourned by its fans. It was just one more blow absorbed by a minority of viewers who like their Beethoven neat and their classics pure.

"What we really need is creative people behind the scenes who are interested in doing something with the classics and with musicians," says Robert Merrill, the Metropolitan Opera baritone who is one of the few performers with opera-trained voices to benefit much from television.

Merrill is not only concerned about the dearth of classical music on television, but about the lack of opportunities for new talent to develop. "It's hard to find a place for them to start," he says. "They can't do much with records any more—disc jockeys are stuck with plugging the top 40 records, and only kids are buying the records in quantity—which doesn't mean buying even the nice popular singers like Como and Tony Martin."

Appearance Vital

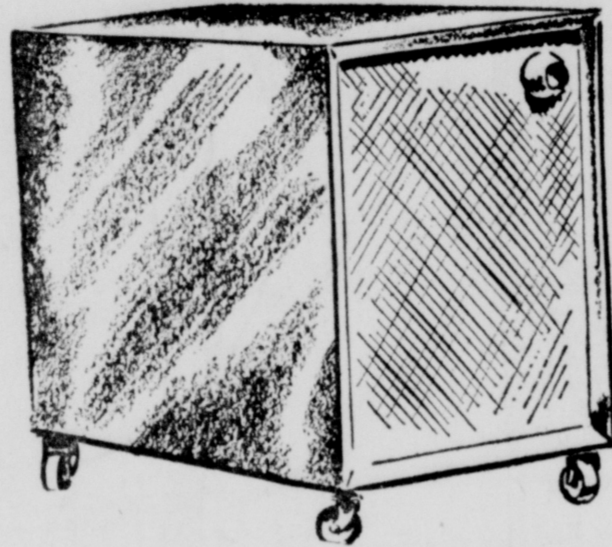

Merrill, however, thinks that many of the classical musicians have something to learn if they expect television doors to open. "I say that a lot of opera and concert artists should stay off the spaghetti," he says. "They should be more concerned with their appearance. We are going into new eras of show business—with the result that we should be more conscious of our diction, our clothes, even our acting. The women singers can learn a lot from girls like Dinah Shore, and there are plenty of male performers we men can take tips from." Most years, Merrill earns about 20 per cent of his annual income from television appearances. From now on this may be reduced. "Unless, of course, I can find somebody who wants to do a series called Hopalong Rigoletto," he added.

Lead will melt at a lower point than most other metals.

CENTRAL HUDSON

Negro Will Head Legion in Hudson

HUDSON, N. Y. (AP)—A Negro has been chosen commander of the American Legion post here, the first in the post's history.

Clarence Van Alstyne was chosen Monday night to head Post 184, which has a membership of six Negroes and about 445 whites. Van Alstyne's brother, William, was elected sergeant-at-arms.

The commander has sided with the post in a tussle it has had with the local chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The post annually stages a minstrel show called "The Black and White Revue." The national association succeeded two years ago in banning the show from the high school. So the post uses a theater and Van Alstyne has served on the program committee.

4 Scholarships Awarded County School Nurses

The names of four Ulster County school nurse-teachers awarded scholarships from the Emily V. Rice Fund were announced at the recent luncheon meeting of Ulster County TB and Health Association and Heart Chapter at the Old Fort, New Paltz.

School nurse-teachers of Kingston and Ulster County were guests at the luncheon.

Two From Ellenville

The winners are: Mrs. Marion Carr and Mrs. Adele Mance of the Ellenville Central School staff; Mrs. Mildred McCormick, serving at Woodstock School and Mrs. Delores Rabbottini, serving Chambers and West Hurley Schools. The latter two are with the staff of the Board of Cooperative Educational Services.

Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Mance are receiving scholarship grants for the second year. Mrs. Mance is a graduate of Westchester County School of Nursing. Mrs. Carr graduated from School of Nursing connected with General Hospital in Syracuse. Mrs. McCormick who graduated from Mt. Sinai Hospital School of Nursing in New York City and Mrs. Rabbottini, a graduate of Hartwick School of Nursing, Oneonta, are receiving grants for the first year. These four nurses will attend summer classes at Russell Sage College in Albany.

Dr. Roscoe Brown of New York University and a scientist in the social research field, spoke with the group about the social scientist's views on the changing patterns of health. He said, "Health problems today are world problems." A question and answer period followed his talk.

Henry Hopper, director of the Board of Cooperative Educational Services, introduced plans for employing a health coordinator to work with the six county school systems covered by the cooperative board.

The scholarship fund is part of the school health program of Ulster County TB and Health Association. In past years Miss Emily V. Rice provided half of the funds for the project, with the TB and Health organization providing half. This year the Misses Margaret and Estelle Rice provided half the funds as a memorial to their sister, Miss Emily V. Rice.

Announcements setting forth requirements and qualifications for these scholarships were sent to each school nurse-teacher in Ulster County. Written applications received were considered by the scholarship committee.

Mrs. Victor Landau of New Paltz; Mrs. Imbrie Richards of Highland; Mrs. Alfred H. Feldshuh of Kerhonkson; Miss Katherine M. Murphy, Miss Almira Porter and Mrs. Arthur Patterson, of Kingston.

Miss Hazel M. Steed in expressing appreciation to the nurses for their cooperation in the rheumatic fever program, said, "We feel the school nurse-teachers are key persons in this program, and in addition to the school nurse has a unique opportunity to help the student, parents and teacher through education about rheumatic fever." It was reported that 101 children are now receiving daily penicillin through the Heart Chapter's program, aimed at preventing recurrences of rheumatic fever and thereby helping to lessen the dangers of heart disease. Miss Steed reminded the nurses that the program had been extended a year ago to include pre-school age children, and youths attending college. It was also revealed that adults needing penicillin may be accepted for a temporary period. The Ulster County TB and Health Association and Heart Chapter are voluntary health organizations, supported entirely by funds contributed through Christmas Seals Sale and Heart Fund.

France Drawing Away From NATO On De Gaulle Move

PARIS (AP) — France appears to be drawing steadily away from her chief partners in the Atlantic Alliance as President Charles de Gaulle puts on pressure to win his country an equal role with Britain and the United States.

Western diplomats are openly concerned over how far the stubborn French president will go.

De Gaulle has set a course aimed at restoring France to her lost international prestige and power.

His strategy appears to be to cold shoulder various NATO projects until the United States and Britain openly recognize the "grandeur of France" which De Gaulle proclaims with religious fervor.

De Gaulle is asking to be accepted as a bargaining equal to President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. His demand is viewed as somewhat unrealistic since France has no atomic bomb, only two under-strength divisions now under NATO and is threatened with internal dissension over Algeria.

De Gaulle wants the formula on how to put together an A-bomb. He can't get it from the United States. Congress forbids that. Britain shows no inclination to give it to him.

OLD CHURCH, Va. (AP)—"We are doing more business every year, but consumption per capita is getting less. It is a dying business." That's what John Beattie says of his corn grinding mill here. His father bought it in 1906 and father and son have operated it since. "People just don't cook any more," Beattie said. "I think the time will come when they stop cooking entirely."

SLA Suspends 3 Licenses in City

The State Liquor Authority today announced disciplinary actions against 18 licensees for violations of the Alcoholic Beverage Control law, and listed three Kingston licensed establishments.

The State Authority suspended for 15 days the license issued to Nuncio Avella, 179 Abeel Street, who holds a restaurant liquor license, for selling alcoholic beverages to minors. The suspension began Monday and will continue until June 23.

The restaurant liquor license issued to Mary DeKoskie Stanley, 13 East Union Street, was suspended for 12 days beginning June 10 and continuing until June 22. The violation was the sale of alcoholic beverages to minors.

The restaurant liquor license issued to Geraldine Bailey, 92-94 Broadway, was suspended for seven days beginning on Monday and continuing to June 15. The violation was the sale of alcoholic beverages to minors.

The licensees did not contest. Two licensees in Dutchess County received suspensions. The license issued to Charles Egenberger, Noxon Road, LaGrangeville, was suspended for 30 days beginning on Monday and continuing to July 8. The violation was the sale of alcoholic beverages during prohibited hours.

The license held by William E. Hanson, 261 Main Street, Beacon, was suspended for three days, June 8 to 11. The violation was permitting gambling on the licensed premises.

Hanson and Egenberger did not contest the action.

Larger Voice Is Asked for State In AEC Affairs

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The director of the state's Office of Atomic Development says the federal government should give states a larger voice in the licensing of nuclear facilities.

Oliver Townsend, who became the first director of the office last April, spoke Tuesday at the Nuclear Safety Institute at Canisius College.

He said that a bill drawn up by the Atomic Energy Commission provides that "the federal government, by a simple vote of the AEC, could license a private person to build and operate a major nuclear facility within the state over the objection of the state government."

"Here in New York," he continued, "we believe that the state should have a larger voice than this in matters which so concern the public health and safety."

He said states should be allowed to participate in federal hearings on the location of nuclear reactors and plants.

He said he will propose changes in the bill, now before Congress. Townsend also said that the nuclear reactor to be built at the University of Buffalo "can become a focal point in Western New York for both the development of an atomic industry and the creation of a scientific and educational environment in which such an industry can flourish."

White House Mum On Missile Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense officials have taken to President Eisenhower a dispute over missiles for air defense, but what decisions were reached, if any, remain secret.

Neither the White House nor participants in Tuesday's meeting would discuss results of the secret session, beyond saying it included talk of a proposed master plan which Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy had been directed to prepare.

At stake is a question about the kind of defense weapon the United States needs. Should it concentrate on the Army's Nike-Hercules or the Air Force's Bomarc or both for defense against enemy bombers.

Advance guesses had been that both the $5-mile Nike-Hercules and the longer range Bomarc would be chosen for specific tasks.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) in an interview today, expressed hope that the meeting had resulted in a decision that would resolve the dispute among the Army, Air Force and Navy about the anti-aircraft weapons.

SAUGERTIES NEWS Proposed $1,433,879 Budget Explained by School Board

Explanations of items in the proposed $1,433,879.40 Saugerties Central School District budget for 1959-1960 were given at a public meeting Monday night at Main Street School Auditorium.

In yesterday's Freeman the projected basic tax rate is $71.50. Village of Saugerties taxpayers in old district 10 will have a rate of $74.16; Glaseco, old district 9, $77.20; Town of Ulster residents in the district $68.05, and Town of Woodstock residents in the district $92.50.

The proposed budget is $113,072.50 over last year's figure of $1,320,806.90.

Board of Education President John Lowther covered the 15-page budget, item by item.

The general control item listed at $43,235 showed an increase of $3,325 over last year's $39,910. Under general control are costs of school elections, auditing and appraising, supplies and printing, supplies and travel; salaries of the collection clerk, business manager, superintendent, office assistants, attendance officer, and census enumeration.

The clerk's salary was increased $200 to $4,400; business manager $500 to $7,350; superintendent $800 to $12,000.

Under instructional service including salaries of teachers and principals, textbooks, supplies and adult education, an increase of $75,795 was shown. The total was $656,202.

During the meeting a comparison was made between the principal of Main Street School with 24 rooms and about 600 pupils and the Glaseco School with 15 rooms and about 450 pupils.

The proposed budget showed an increase of $950 to the Main Street School principal to $6,950 and an adjustment of $700 to $7,300 for the Glaseco School principal.

The junior-senior high school principal's salary in the proposed budget was listed at $8,000, an increase of $400, and the vice principal receives a $250 increase to $7,150. The director of elementary education will receive a $500 increase to $7,500.

Instructional service also lists a $27,575 increase of teachers' salaries, kindergarten through sixth grade for a total of $298,375. This was pointed out as regular increments listed on the teachers' salary schedule.

Salaries of teachers in seven through 12th grade showed increases totaling $29,975 for a total of $245,350.

Adult education listed a decrease of $3,000. Last year's cost was $6,500.

Proponents of the driver education program spoke at great length on reinstating the full training program. A petition with 92 names was presented to the board by Mrs. Victor L. Wood of Malden.

Lowther said a saving of about $6,800 could be realized by discontinuing the full program and conducting driver training only during the summer. He said the full program would add 80 cents to the tax rate.

Operation of the plant showed an increase of $28,100 with a total of $124,950. The largest part of the increase was in custodians' salaries, an addition of $22,900. It was explained by Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools that additional custodians were hired to take care of the new high school.

Maintenance of the plant showed a decrease of $16,114, and auxiliary agencies including library and health service decreased $8,126. Transportation under this item showed an increase of $2,000 due to additional students and the new hike in gasoline taxes, Dr. Morse said.

The largest single increase under fixed charges was pensions for teachers, $20,000. Under this item are social security, insurance, and public library contribution. The total increase was $24,670.

Debt service showed a decrease of $5,557.50.

Capital outlay including improvement of grounds, alterations heating, lighting, furniture and maintenance of tools showed an increase of $10,980.

Listed under estimated income were cash balance $7,000; state aid $802,268; incidentals collected locally $2,000 and athletic games receipts $1,500, for a total of $812,768. This leaves $608,761.40 to be collected by taxes.

The budget sheet pointed out that state aid for the Saugerties Central Schools for next year has been further reduced because of the poor local attendance record of the pupils this year due to illness. The loss amounts to over $25,000.

A full review of the driver training program will be on the agenda of the board of education meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the board offices, Hill Street. The annual meeting is scheduled for July 14.

Jaycees, Jaynees Install Officers

Saugerties Jaycees and Jaynees installed their newly elected officers at a dinner session at the Flamingo Restaurant this week.

Jaycees officers installed were George Turner of Barclay Heights, president; Dr. Richard Messina, vice-president; Harold A. Hagopian, secretary; Jack Fitzpatrick, treasurer; Donald Patterson, state director, and Joseph DiDomenico and George Duffy, local directors.

Robert Jones served as master of ceremonies, and Donald Lawson, state vice-president, conducted the installation. Jaynees installed by past president, Mrs. Kay Rice, were: Mrs. Betty Hoffman, president; Mrs. Virginia Batchelor, vice-president; Mrs. Ella Camarda, recording secretary; Mrs. Nancy Gerhard, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ann Barone, treasurer.

Dancing followed the installation.

Benjamin Storms arrested May 11 for operating a junkyard in violation of a Saugerties Town ordinance pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace William D. Brinner Tuesday afternoon, and imposition of sentence was suspended for 20 days.

He must appear before Judge Brinner again on June 29 at 3 p. m. in the Town Hall.

Storms was instructed by the court that the condition of his property at that time will have a bearing on the severity of the sentence. If the clearing was completed, Judge Brinner indicated that the sentence would be light. Storms could be sentenced to as much as a year in jail.

The decision was based on an affidavit by Town Constable Charles Riley which stated that considerable clearing of junk had been accomplished on the property and that about four or five days work was necessary. The affidavit was received with the consent of the defendant's counsel.

Storms on two separate appearances before Judge Brinner was given additional time to clear his property or face charges.

Following his arrest on a complaint of four Quarryville residents purportedly representing people in that community, Storms was given two weeks to clear the property off Route 32.

75 Left Homeless
FARGO, N.D. (AP)—A tornadoic storm generating winds up to 115 miles an hour ripped through Fargo Tuesday, leaving about 75 homeless and causing property damage running into thousands of dollars.

No casualties were reported in Fargo, scene of a devastating tornado that killed 11 persons and injured many others two years ago almost to the day.

At least one person died in weather violence that swept eastern North Dakota and western Minnesota. An 18-year-old girl, Bela Alonso of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, was killed by lightning while she was working in a sugar beet field east of Ardock in western North Dakota.

Think It Through

E. F. HUTTON
HOCUS-POCUS

The big labor unions have some smart men on their staffs. Their arguments for constantly increasing wages, however, sound as if they never heard of double entry bookkeeping.

Especially when they say that this process makes the rest of us more prosperous. In short they are doing it for your own good. That is what Papa tells little Willie as he is taken out to the woodshed.

Every man's wage is another man's cost. The money must come from somebody to go to anybody.

As an example of their strange bookkeeping, note the ads that the steel workers have been putting out. They tell the farmers, "Think how we could increase your sales if we had another billion $'s of wages to spend."

Suppose that in a town hall there were 100 steelworkers on one side of the center aisle and 100 farmers on the other. The steelworkers say, "If each of you will pay 10 $'s to us, we will have 1,000 $'s more to buy your produce. This will make you prosperous."

Some hard-headed farmer would see through that hocus-pocus quick—especially if he had Scotch ancestors.

Of course, this would be good for the steelworkers, but how about the farmers?

Question: After the 1,000 $'s had been handed over, would the total purchasing power of the whole crowd, on both sides of the aisle, be any greater?

Ask your 12-year-old boy.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Other things besides a ceiling on interest rates are keeping the U. S. Treasury financially embarrassed.

One is the tax laws that favor its competitors in the money market — corporations and state and local agencies.

Another is the higher yields that government backed mortgages offer investors — federal guarantees that make these mortgages look as riskless as Treasury securities.

Tight Money One

One is the tight money policy by which the Federal Reserve Board is helping the administration in its fight to stave off another inflationary inroad on the purchasing power of your dollar.

And a prime one is the habit of the federal debt to grow and grow. Only Congress — or, some say, an aroused public — can stop that.

To some degree these factors affect both the nonsalable U. S. savings bonds which individuals — most in the lower income brackets — buy; and the Salable Treasury securities which look for their market among the banks, other financial institutions and well-heeled individual investors.

But they apply especially to the marketable securities which have been giving the Treasury its biggest headaches. These problems will remain even if Congress goes along with President Eisenhower's request to lift the ceiling on the interest Uncle Sam can pay when he borrows.

Look at Difficulties

Let's look at these sales difficulties that U. S. marketable securities face:

In today's crowded borrowers market competition can be stiff.

And the tax laws give corporations a head start. The Treasury itself picks up about half of a big corporation's borrowing costs. That's because when it borrows it can charge the interest to expenses. Since it must pay the Treasury about half of its gross earnings in income taxes, it saves about half of the interest it pays out. Hence, paying higher rates to get a loan isn't the pain it might be.

Lose Their Charm

Tax laws favor the states and local agencies when they borrow — and they are doing so in increasing volume. Their securities are tax-exempt, appealing to any investor in the upper income brackets. U. S. Treasury securities, on the other hand, are fully taxable at the federal level. Thus they lose much of their charm for the investor who pays high taxes anyway, and sees no percentage in going into a higher bracket.

Another competitor for lending money is the home mortgage. This pays a higher yield than the Treasury now does or would like to. When the mortgage is backed by the Federal Housing Administration or the Veterans Administration the risk to the investor is slight. With today's home building boom there are lots of mortgages for investors to buy.

Rocky Improves Home

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Note for political pundits:

You can interpret this either way — Gov. Rockefeller expects to stay in Albany for awhile, or he simply likes to fix things up around his homestead.

Anyway, Rockefeller, regarded as a contender for the Republican nomination for president, is having a sizable landscaping project done, at his own expense, around the governor's executive mansion. Wags are wondering whether he's planting annuals — or perennials.

Play Supports Thin-Ice Bid

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Mark Hodges' three heart bid comes as close to skating on thin ice as a bid can come—particularly as Mark knew that his partner was addicted to light opening bids.

However, Mark has been skating on thin ice for 20 years and this time the ice did not break and Mark made his contract with an overtrick.

The play is a good example of correct technique. Mark won the opening spade lead, ruffed a spade and led a low club from dummy. East ducked and Mark was in with the king to ruff his last spade.

Now Mark played the queen of clubs. East won with the ace and shifted to a dummy which was won by dummy's ace. Mark cashed dummy's ace of trumps and discarded two diamonds on dummy's jack and nine of clubs.

Either opponent could ruff but that ruff and one more trump trick were all they could get.

"I should not have made the overtrick," complained Mark. "Now I will be known as an underbidder."

Youth, 15, Shot Through Head, Called Critical

TROY, N. Y. (AP) — The 15-year-old son of a Troy detective was shot through the head Tuesday night when the .38-caliber pistol he and his brother were playing with accidentally discharged.

Thomas Barry was in critical condition early today in an Albany hospital. Surgeons skillfully patched the wound while his parents waited four long hours outside the operating room.

The bullet entered below the boy's right eye and emerged at the back of the head.

Thomas and his brother, Lee, 14, were playing with their father's service pistol on the front porch. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Barry, were not home. A daughter of the couple, Susan, 20, was in the house.

The only details of the accident came from Susan.

"I heard a noise like a firecracker. Then I could hear screaming and Lee hollered to me, 'He's shot, he's shot.'"

Thursday Is Last Day For Phone Co. Visits

Approximately 200 persons Tuesday night were through the New York Telephone Company's central office building at 449 Broadway on the first night of the three-day open house program conducted to give area customers an opportunity to inspect and see in operation the complex equipment.

Alderman-at-large Harold Kaye officiated at the tape-cutting ceremony which officially launched the unusual program offered the public by the telephone company. The program will continue tonight and Thursday from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m., and Harold H. Heider, company manager, extends an invitation to the public to visit the office and view the equipment which routes the calls of customers across the nation, and the test bureau facilities designed to ferret out equipment trouble before it occurs.

Features on Display

An automatic "bookkeeper" which keeps track of calls will be displayed each evening. This equipment, which code punches on tape the details of a customer's call, automatically registers the calling telephone number, the number called, the time the call is made, and the time to a tenth of a minute that the conversation begins and ends.

On the inspection tour, visitors will see a central office "brain" which makes thousands of decisions a second and sends each telephone call to its destination by the most direct route. Other features of the tour will be the operators' long distance switchboard room and the master test frame whose flashing red and white lights help in the 24-hour job of providing dependable, uninterrupted service.

Heider said the open house is one of the rare occasions that persons other than authorized personnel are admitted to a central office. The company manager pointed out that more than 90 per cent of the building through which the public will be guided, is equipped with air conditioning, to add to the comfort of the visitors on the tour. An additional feature is a display of outdoor construction equipment in the company's Hoffman Street parking lot. This display will be open for the public tonight and Thursday during the open house hours 6:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Emphasizing that the open house program is a rare occasion, Heider said, "Kingston customers have never seen their central office. I think they will be interested in seeing the complex array of equipment which helps make their telephone service second to none."

Heider said the three-day show features special telephone equipment in the central office where some of the most up-to-date equipment of the Bell System is housed.

Permission Is

now by Myles, Wormser and Koch, a New York law firm which has been substituted for Haver who withdrew from the case.

Asked today when the Boyd case might be moved for trial, Special Attorney General Bernard Tompkins said he had received a copy of the Appellate court's decision this morning and had "no chance to give consideration to the matter which involves many facts," among them use of the court room during the coming weeks and other matters.

Ryan Appeal Pending

Still pending in the Court of Appeals is the Morgan D. Ryan appeal in which counsel for Ryan claims Ryan had been granted immunity because of appearances before the grand jury where he allegedly gave testimony, and consequently a conspiracy indictment returned against him must be dismissed.

Commenting Tuesday afternoon at a news conference, Special Prosecutor Tompkins said the dismissal of an indictment Tuesday by Justice Henry Clay Greenberg would not alter the course of the probe would continue and gave no indication how much longer the investigation would continue.

Still Trials To Be Held
Tompkins said there were still trials to be held under indictments already returned and the investigation would continue and additional indictment could not be ruled out.

"Our program has not changed and the dismissal of this indictment today will shorten our investigations only that this particular indictment will not be tried," Tompkins said in commenting on the effect the dismissal of the indictment might have on the future of the investigation.

Bonn Chief, Aide
ter, who is Adenauer's vice chancellor as well, also challenged published rumors that his chief thinks he is not equipped to head the country in this time of international crisis.

Can't Tolerate Lie
"I will under no circumstances," he told reporters, "tolerate the continued existence of the historical lie that I am less qualified than the chancellor to guide the German fate during this serious situation of our people."

Erhard said he would try to get the Christian Democrats to force Adenauer to reverse his decision. His alternative would be to try to form a coalition of his supporters and opposition Socialists to overthrow the chancellor on a parliamentary vote of no confidence.

Rocky Addresses Mayors
NEW YORK (AP)—Mobilization of the resources of local governments as well as those of the state is needed to meet the challenges to New York State's economic growth, says Gov. Rockefeller.

"New Yorkers today," he says, "cannot afford to wait for the future to come to them. We must go out to meet it. We must anticipate the future and the problems it always brings."

The state government must show the way in mutual effort, Rockefeller said Tuesday night at the 50th annual meeting of the State Conference of Mayors.

Six hundred city, town and village officials are attending the conference sessions.

State Official Orders Traffic Changes in Area

William S. Hulst, chairman of the New York State Traffic Commission, has ordered the installation of a 4-face traffic signal, equipped with vehicle detectors, on Route 52 at its easterly intersection with old Route 17 and a new road leading to Groenagers.

The commission head also ordered the installation of a traffic signal consisting of two 2-face heads and two single-face heads, on Route 52 at its easterly intersection with old Route 17, Ramp "G" near the bridge over the Liberty Expressway.

Another order issued by Hulst prohibits parking on the north side of Cow Alley between its intersection with Route 203 and a point 500 feet easterly therefrom at Spencertown, Columbia County.

Hulst also ordered the change in traffic signal on Route 207 at its intersection with the main entrance road to Stewart Air Force Base, Town of Windsor, from a 3-face signal head to a 2-face and a single-face head, and the addition of a green arrow indication on the easterly side of the single-face signal head. Another order prohibits the standing of vehicles on the west side of Route 84 in front of the Montgomery airport from April 1 to Nov. 1 of each year.

Chamber Accepts 5 Members. Plans For Road Rites

Five new membership applications were approved and a special committee was appointed to cooperate with the New York State Bridge Authority in making plans to celebrate the opening of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge - Route 9-W Highway connection, at a meeting of the board of directors of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

President Frederick H. Stang appointed Alexander J. Banyo, supervisor of the Town of Ulster and a member of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, as chairman of this special committee. Other members appointed were Norman L. McLeod and Richard J. Whalen. President Stang will also serve on this committee.

The five membership applications approved were: C. A. Baltz & Sons, represented by Harold Baltz; W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc. Harry Barnhart; National Cash Register Co., Lawrence F. Geuss and H. P. Betts; Port Ewen Paint and Hardware, C. D. Robinson and Albert O. Sonnenberg, advertising specialties.

Ernest Rowe, incoming president of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce, an ex-officio member of the board, was present and outlined some of the planned activities for his organization.

atomic or rocket installations in West Berlin.

"If these conditions are accepted, the U.S.S.R. is ready to maintain communications between West Berlin and the outside world as now existing."

Would Guarantee Status

"This provisional status of West Berlin would be guaranteed first by the four powers on the basis of a protocol of guarantee submitted by the government of the GDR (East Germany) which has expressed in principle its willingness to respect the agreed provisional status of West Berlin."

"The Soviet Union is willing to make access commitments either in a general agreement concerning the provisional status of West Berlin or in a separate document as the Western powers desire. These documents would be registered with the United Nations."

"If an understanding is reached to make West Berlin a free, demilitarized city in conformity with the Soviet proposals, access commitments would be maintained until the reunification of Germany."

Would Check Violations

"Finally, there should be the four-power supervisory commission to watch out for violations of the agreements and to take appropriate measures to insure the fulfillment of the agreements with- out, however, touching the sovereign rights of the German Democratic Republic."

Gromyko told the Western ministers that if they did not agree to his proposition the Soviet Union would not give its consent to continuing the present regime in West Berlin.

Also, Berding reported, Gromyko said that if the Western powers or West Germany hampered the achievement of a peace treaty within the time limit, the Soviet Union and other countries "would be compelled" to sign a peace treaty with East Germany.

Crime Parley Denied

NEW YORK (AP)—Police say the meeting of more than 60 men in 1957 at Apalachin, N. Y., was a meeting of underworld overlords, there to cut up the national crime world into geographical areas.

Not so, as far as he was concerned, said Harlem underworld figure Vincent Rao Tuesday. The only thing he cut up was a steak sandwich, he said.

The 60-year-old Rao told the State Investigation Commission that as far as he was concerned, it was no crime convention, just a buffet luncheon.

Kerhonkson Man Heads Egg Assn.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y. (AP)—Samuel K. Cohen of Kerhonkson was elected president of the Ulster County Poultry Assn. Tuesday night.

The organization was formed recently to combat low egg prices.

Seven Pickets Are

the pickets, by then a group almost as large as the procession, out of the line. The doctors and students were not involved in the fighting.

The New York Medical College owns Flower & Fifth Avenue Hospital, the latest to be struck by the Retail Drug Employees Union.

Elliott Godoff, a union organizer in charge of the pickets, said a "peaceful, silent demonstration" had been planned.

The academic procession had to cross the picket line, and police cleared pickets away from the hall where the procession was to begin.

At this point, according to Godoff, "the cops began to get pretty rough," but there was no trouble. The pickets carried signs saying, among other things, "We can't send our kids to college on $35 a week."

Ordered Sticks Off

The police ordered the pickets to remove their sticks from their signs, but allowed them to gradually link up with the procession. Then they decided to cut them off.

As the end of the academic procession wound into the auditorium for graduation ceremonies, fighting began on the sidewalk outside. Pickets were struck on the arms or backs, and some were knocked to the ground. Several were handcuffed while on the ground.

Godoff said some pickets were bruised, but none required hospital treatment.

A Policeman was Bitten on the hand. The fight spilled over into the street, stopping traffic on Fifth Avenue, and police tried to get several strikers into a cab. They only managed to get one picket in the cab, and then the strikers surrounded it and wouldn't let it move.

Over in Minutes

The whole thing was over in a matter of minutes. Five of the pickets were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct. They were arraigned in night court and paroled in custody of the union's attorney.

Two more men, also pickets, were accused of attacking police men and were charged with felonious assault.

The violence came on the same day that the mayor endorsed a compromise proposed to end the strike. The compromise suggestion was made by a three-man panel appointed by the mayor to suggest a way to end the strike.

The panel suggested that employees be allowed representation in grievances and wage talks by a person of their own choosing. This the hospitals have refused to agree to in the past, claiming it would mean recognizing the union—the issue over which the strike was called.

Would Ban Strikes

The panel also said that strikes or slowdowns should be banned for two years. The union has said it would agree to a provision against strikes. Neither side would comment on the new recommendations.

The struck hospitals have continued to operate with volunteers, substitutes doing the chores of the strikers. Wagner has no means of forcing acceptance of the recommendations, or of ending the strikes. He hopes public pressure will lead both sides to give some ground. He said he would seek a meeting with both union and management later in the week to discuss the proposed solution.

Local Rotarians At Convention

Adrian Kaplan, president-elect of the Kingston Rotary Club, Frederic Snyder, Larry V. Bogert and Sam Scudder are among the 16,000 Rotarians attending the 50th annual convention of Rotary International in New York City.

The Kingston Rotarians are participating in discussion forums on their various businesses and professions and on the service activities of Rotary clubs around the world. They also are enjoying entertainment presented especially for the convention by stars of opera, stage and television.

N Y State Listed Fifth in Driver Judging by NSC

New York ranked fifth in the nation in the progress it made during 1958 in auto driver licensing and regulation, according to William S. Hulst, State Motor Vehicle commissioner.

Achievement awards made by the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators were judged by the National Safety Council. A grade of 85 per cent or better must be earned to qualify for an award.

Commissioner Hulst was notified New York scored 89 per cent in the competition, and will receive its award at the annual AAMVA conference held this year in October at Wentworth-by-the-Sea, New Hampshire.

According to L. S. Harris, executive director of the association, the trend toward higher standards of traffic regulation and enforcement are major factors in accident prevention.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

While I still have the loan of Marius Schoonmaker's book on History of Kingston which was published in 1888 I want to use all the interesting items I find. Here is a letter written by Charles DeWitt dated August, 1763. I take it from Hurley. It reads in part: "We have the greatest crops of wheat here, that we have had for many years past, and the most fruitful years that I can remember ever to have seen. I am in hopes that poor laborer will be better able to rub along this year, as wheat, rye, feed, corn etc., are vastly cheaper than they have been for a long time."

They seemed to have had the same problems around here in 1763 as the letter continues: "We manage in general as usual, only we have taken a particular turn this year to build school-houses, which at present are more plenty with us than school-masters. The upper end of Marbletown at Daniel Cartine's, they have built one after the old fashion, viz: A large heap of white oak, black oak and perhaps other sorts of timber piled up to convenient height, and two or three holes cut in for the children and light to pass. This building is not so magnificent, as another built near father DeWitt's, of stone, a shingle roof, two floors, but they tell me the upper floor is not planed very smooth, the joists ugly etc., however two large sashes are made therein, besides another place where the master and his children pass and repass." If those hard working folks could see the present day million dollar school houses, I wonder what they would say.

This 1763 letter continues "Now I have yet to tell you that we have built a schoolhouse . . . it is 29 and 24 feet in length and width, built of good large limestone, we have a good cedar shingle roof on. One large sash window next the street and another opposite thereto next the garden, another smaller window at one end near the fireplace, for the master to sit at. We intend to have our boards neatly planed and everything finished in the best manner . . . and finally we have a good master to take possession." Now that sounds like a nice snug, cozy little school house.

Mr. Schoonmaker also writes about the talk of an academy in Kingston and finally the building and opening of the Kingston Academy at the corner of John and Crown Streets. It reads in part: "They secured the services of John Addison as principal of the academy department. On the ninth of May, 1774, they appointed one of their numbers to procure the services of a tutor in the Latin department. The English department was opened second Monday of May. On Feb. 14, 1775, they made arrangements to procure a set of maps for Mr. Addison for use in the school-room, and also additional seats and a table."

He further writes: "Mr. Addison, the principal, was a man of nerve, of learning, and of first class educational talent. The school under him took a very high rank and earned it by its works, and not by boasting . . . the school appears to have met with very great success from the commencement. It was burned by the British when for only four months it seems before the the classes were back in session."

Ontario, Canada, last Sunday, owing to an injury to Mrs. Estill, the former Miss Ann Wilcox.

The Music Study Club met this afternoon with Mrs. Philip Wilklow. The program on Current Opera was arranged by Mrs. Herbert Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Zeissett have moved to their new home, the former S. D. Farnham house, Washington Avenue. Mr. Zeissett is connected with the Central Hudson Company.

Richard Cummings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Cummings, Bellevue Road, was graduated last week from the American Institute for Foreign Trade, Phoenix, Ariz. He specialized in Spanish and Latin American studies. He is a graduate of the local high school and received his BS degree from New Paltz State Teachers College, and is a member of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity. His brother, Kenneth Cummings is a member of the faculty of the Arlington School, Poughkeepsie and with Mrs. Cummings lives in that city.

Miss Janet Mills and Lewis DiStasi Jr., both students at Rider College, Trenton, N. J., have been recipients of awards at the annual awards day exercises. Miss Mills received a trophy for her contributions to the dramatic club and a listing in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Mr. DiStasi was given the cup for the highest scholastic average among the New York State students, the Alpha Epsilon Zeta honor society certificate for participation in college activities and a listing in Who's Who.

Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb was elected president of the Mid-Hudson Elmsira College Club and Mrs. Gordon E. Wilcox, secretary at a recent meeting of the club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Smith, Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Harry B. Cotant Jr., will preside at the meeting of the WSCS Wednesday 8 p. m., in the Methodist Church parlor.

the travel-lovin' Chevrolet

Nothing else but a dyed-in-the-wool sports car like the Corvette can take a turn with the solid assurance of this sweet-handling Chevrolet. Drive it—and feel the extra smoothness and stability born of Chevy's better balance and supple full coil springs.

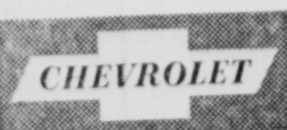

It's easy to see where Chevrolet gets its road sense. With big coil springs at every wheel, a firm, wider stance and all of its pounds distributed with painstaking care, Chevy's born with it. The only thing that may be hard to understand is how it can offer the ride it does, along with so many other luxury-car virtues, and still compete in the low-price field.

We use the word compete only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by.

There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. Take a Chevy down a snaky back road and you'll feel the difference in the sure way it holds through curves and shoots over rough spots with hardly a ripple. This one's made to travel and loves every minute of it.

Stop by your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's and sample Chevy's road sense!

How good a housewife would you make?

Suppose you traded jobs with your wife. Could you handle what she copes with every day?

Before you answer, try it a few days. Planning meals, washing dishes, summoning plumbers, bandaging cut knees, checking the sales for bargains and a few other assorted chores. (You'll wonder how one small girl can do so much and still be so cheerful and so beautiful.)

She'd tell you that the telephone is an indispensable helper in running her home. It lightens her load of shopping. Brings help, of all kinds, when it's needed.

Lets her know when to expect the breadwinner for dinner. And lets her escape, for a few minutes, from the hectic routine while she compares plights with the homemaker down the block.

Actually, when you stop to think about it, it's hard to imagine tackling any job without a telephone close at hand. It helps each of us get more done, more easily, and in less time. Yet, for all it does, the telephone is one of the biggest bargains in anybody's budget.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Small, 18 West Pierpont Street, Miss Small plans to attend New York State College for Teachers at Albany in the fall.

The award winner was guest of honor at AAUW's annual picnic, held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. George Dingee, Lake Katrine. Mrs. Russell Hope Robbins, outgoing president, was in charge. Also attending was Miss Mary Davis of West Hurley, last year's scholarship winner.

Mrs. Joseph McNelis was chairman of the scholarship committee, aided by Miss Blanche Kirschenblum and Mrs. Burton Schwab. The committee pointed out that in addition to academic and extracurricular achievement, great emphasis is placed on the applicant's initiative in working to help finance her college career.

Miss Small has maintained an average of more than 90 per cent during her four years at Kingston High School.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Nan Laine, wife of singer Frankie Laine, is recovering from surgery in California while her husband stars in the State Fair musical production, "Pajama Game."

"She couldn't come to see the show, but I'll bring the show to her," Laine said Tuesday. "The phone company is working out a way to connect our sound system to a phone and relay the show to Nan." "It'll cost a fortune," Laine said, "but who cares?"

SUMMER FRUITS

Summertime brings an abundance of long awaited fresh fruits. Some two dozen will be in season in this vicinity during June, July, and August.

Summer fruits come from far and near. Some summer fruits come from both far and nearby growing areas. Among the fruits in this group are rhubarb, strawberries, cherries, blueberries, cantaloupes, peaches, and plums. As the season advances for each of these fruits, supplies from nearby augment or replace those from distant areas. Other fruits come only from nearby. Examples of locally grown fruits that have a short season include blackberries, raspberries, gooseberries, and currants. And some fruits come only from distant areas. Among these are apricots, nectarines, mangoes, figs and limes.

Nearby strawberries now come to market; blueberries soon to follow. Supplies of strawberries from New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut promise to be close to last year's above-average harvest. Both New Jersey and Long Island berries will start coming to market in volume this week. The Long Island strawberry crop is of exceptionally high quality and although it is still a little early for New Jersey blueberries prospects are for a large crop, says Extension Specialists. The heavy set of fruit should produce large yields, provided that they are not offset by dry weather.

Know buy times for summer fruits. — Knowing periods of expected peak supplies helps shoppers match the timing of their summer fruit purchases with corresponding prices. Each of the summer months features certain fruits. For example, expect peak supplies of bananas, pineapples, rhubarb, and strawberries in June. June and July combined are seasonal months for apricots, lemons, and raspberries.

Some fruits are more plentiful than others. — The amount of each fruit that comes to market varies from year to year, but some fruits are more plentiful than others. Last year 6 fresh fruits accounted for more than 60 per cent of all shipments to New York City during June, July, and August. These six fruits were cantaloupes, peaches, watermelons, plums and prunes, and honeydew melons. Seven fruits that are available all year around accounted for almost 30 per cent of the summer supply. These seven were apples, bananas, oranges, grapefruit, lemons, and grapes. All other fruits accounted for about 10 per cent of the total summer supply. This group includes blueberries, cherries, and strawberries.

Expect heavy supplies of peaches, plums and prunes, lemons, and apricots. — Fruit forecasts suggest more peaches, plums and prunes, lemons, and apricots than usual. Peaches from the South should be plentiful this summer because the second largest crop since 1947 is expected. Southern peaches preceded the local crop, for which supply estimates are not yet available. California's plum crop is forecast as 64 per cent larger than last year and 24 per cent above the 1948-57 average. The apricot crop may be 2½ times as large as the small 1958 crop and 16 per cent above the 1948-57 average.

Expect fewer cantaloupes, watermelons, honeydews, and cherries. — More cantaloupes than last year but fewer than average are expected. In June cantaloupes come chiefly from Arizona and California. Production will likely be up in Arizona but lower than average in California. Florida and Texas also supply us with some cantaloupes, but harvest has been delayed by unfavorable weather in both states. Honeydew supply prospects are below last year's and slightly more than a fourth below average. Texas and California supply most of our honeydews in June. Acreage is down in Texas and the crop is retarded because of cool weather. Watermelon harvest in Florida, the most important producing area in late spring, is behind schedule because of cool weather. Production from Florida and California is expected to be a fourth less than last year but 4 per cent above the 1949-57 average. The summer crop will likely be smaller than a year ago, and than average. Georgia and Texas usually supply half of our summer watermelons, and both states are behind schedule because of rain and cool weather.

Sweet cherries from California and Washington will be few this year. California's crop will be the second smallest since 1940. And in Washington cold, wet weather at blossom time caused such damage that harvest estimates still remain unknown.

At the Markets

Fruit: Strawberry supplies continue to increase with nearby berries from New Jersey and Long Island plentiful. Prices should decline in the next few weeks even though the crop will be smaller than last year. Apples, citrus, avocados, bananas, rhubarb, and pineapples continue plentiful.

Vegetables: Vegetable supplies from nearby producing areas continue on the upswing. Asparagus, with its short season, will be in good supply only during the first part of June. If you prefer fresh asparagus, choose it now. Good quality spinach and lettuce from New Jersey are also available at low prices. Broccoli, snap beans, and beets from nearby producing areas are expected in volume about mid-June. Other plentiful vegetables include cabbage, squash, green onions, white onions, celery, tomatoes, radishes, snap beans, and carrots.

Milk: Production of milk is greatest during June and fluid milk prices are at their seasonal low. There are many different forms of milk from which to choose — whole, skim, modified skim, buttermilk, and nonfat dry milk.

Eggs: Egg prices have increased slightly but will remain relatively low for many weeks. Meats: Continued heavy receipts of broilers, fowl, and turkeys have reduced prices for

Class of 1928 Has Reunion Here

The Kingston High School Class of 1928 celebrated Homecoming Day Saturday, June 6, with a reunion dinner at Williams Lake Hotel, Rosendale. Forty graduates with wives or husbands as guests made up the party of 67 for the festive evening.

Following the dinner, class these poultry items to the lowest level in many years. Receipts will continue heavy all this month. However, chick placements indicate broiler marketings in July will decline below year ago levels. Coupled with strong summer demand, this should raise prices.

president, Clifford Miller, greeted the guests. John Thompson, executive vice manager of Crompton-Richmond Co., Inc., New York City, delivered the reunion speech.

A special note came to the class from its noted Hollywood member, Seaman Jacobs, and present activities and interests of those in other remote areas, including Georgia and Texas, as well as of those present were reviewed by the reunion committee. All but three of their 144 classmates had been located. An award was presented to the class member having the oldest child and the most grandchildren. During the program there was also an impromptu singing of the class song by former glee club members who had last sung together on commencement night 31 years ago. The evening ended with dancing in the Lantern Room.

Construction of the Big Inch pipeline was started in 1942.

Anybody Can Write

By FRANK TRIPP

I keep telling hopefuls that anybody can write. The only trick about it is to write what somebody will read. That's my problem right now. So you are forewarned.

An old editor who insisted that I write feature yarns out of thin air said, "Oh, just start writing. A topic will turn up." It's got to work for me today.

I'll start about what, just now, is upmost in my mind; last night's supper. The old editor was right: "Supper" it will be, and about pancakes. They're year 'round treats to lots of folks; nothing seasonal about pancakes.

Down South they are flapjacks or cornbreads, but call 'em pancakes, griddle cakes, wheat cakes, buckwheats, stack 'o hots, waffles or crepe suzette, the main difference is the number you can eat, and how you weather your gulliony.

SUPPER once was an all-American institution. Now it's a fashionable midnight, or later, "night-out" coffee break. It started as the 6 o'clock meal, or when thereafter the old man came home from work and got washed up.

It didn't make sense, because dinner was at noon and the old man ate his out of his "dinner pail." A president got elected on the slogan "a full dinner pail" and it was years before pop ate out of a "lunch box" and came home to an evening dinner. Anyway eventually pop got a break. The noon meal became lunch or snack; the evening meal became dinner, and supper moved to midnight with an all new flossy distinction plus dyspepsia.

THERE NOW, I got a paragraph out of "supper" and still have pancakes and gravy to fall back on. Just gravy recalls a yarn that's hard to believe, but it's true.

In a station restaurant at Greensboro, N. C., on a hot sticky morning, a man near me was served a strange breakfast dish, swimming in grease. By his looks, he could have been the mayor.

"What's that?" I asked the waitress. "Cantaloupe and gravy," she replied. "Want some?"

I didn't try it, then or since, but learned the recipe. You can either scoop out the cantaloupe, cut it into squares and serve in a dish floating in ham or bacon grease; or just fill the center of a cantaloupe with grease, and serve, which is much simpler. I'm sure you'll enjoy it.

THAT LEAVES only the pancakes to write about. I said they know no season, which is not exactly true, except the packaged kind. My mom's pitcher of buckwheat batter came only with the frosts and stayed on the back porch all winter.

The buckwheat pancake is as American as Yankee Doodle. It was pretty much standard breakfast fare up North before people worried about their girth. A dozen at a sitting, swamped in country butter, meat gravy and maple syrup, with side pork, pork chops, ham or bacon, grew so pretty husky people who needed the fuel for the work they did.

Now, there's another topic, for some other time, and much more can be said of supper and pancakes. So, you aspirants who must have a catastrophe or an assignment for something to write, you see how simple it is. People will read about things that are common to their own lives; in this case, their belly — or you wouldn't have read this.

Sole Survivor Each Time
Navy Airman Grounds Self After 3 Crashes

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP)—"I've had it," the Navy airman said from a hospital bed. Aviation electronics technician 2.C. Gerland P. Iardi of Bath, N. Y., the sole survivor in each of three Navy plane crashes that have cost the lives of 18 buddies, is grounding himself.

"I love to fly," he said Tuesday, "but I've got a wife and three children—I'll stick to repair on the ground from now on, unless war or an emergency comes up."

Iardi cheated death the latest time on May 11. He alone survived when a Navy P2V-3 patrol bomber crashed and killed nine others near the Whidbey Island Naval Air Station north of here in Puget Sound.

Badly burned, and with his left arm broken in three places, Iardi was pulled from the flaming wreckage and airlifted to the Navy hospital here. He will be hospitalized several more months for skin grafts. He and his wife, Rose, have a home at Oak Harbor, near the Whidbey Base.

"I've lost many of my friends in crashes," he said. "You feel sorry, you'd like to say something. You don't find the words. I thank the Lord for taking them fast." Iardi said his first crash was in 1944 when his pilot was shot and killed in a Kingfisher seaplane off Japan and he managed to crash-land off the coast with an emergency stick. Other fliers picked him up.

In 1946 a Navy flying boat exploded off the coast of Chile. "The next thing I remembered," Iardi said, "I was 200 feet off the ground with my parachute open." Eight companions were killed.

"I didn't tell my wife about my other two crashes until this one," he added. "But I've had it."

Tompkins Denies He'll Seek Queens County DA Post

Special Assistant Attorney General Bernard Tompkins, who is serving as special prosecutor in the Ulster County kickback probe, Tuesday afternoon denied that he would seek the Queens County Republican designation as candidate for district attorney of his home county. "There is absolutely nothing to it," Senator Tompkins said, when questioned about a report that he would seek the nomination. Elected to the New York State Senate from the Sixth Senatorial District, Queens, in 1952, he served in the State Senate during 1953 and 1954. Early in the spring of 1958 he was named a special attorney general to conduct the Ulster County probe.

Huston Art Firm Moves Its Store

Because of the construction of the new Kingston arterial highway and the necessary demolition of some buildings for the project, the Huston Company Inc. has moved from 778 Broadway to a larger store at 690 Broadway.

The company has incorporated with Mrs. Sue G. Huston, president, and William Wrixon, vice president. The company deals in art craft, engineering and technical supplies, and for the last seven years it has conducted business in the Kingston area. Among its customers are some of the largest industrial firms in the area. Stick cinnamon is the actual bark of a tree grown in the East Indies.

Starkweather had been scheduled to die in the Nebraska electric chair on Friday morning. Whittaker said that counsel for Starkweather would have until June 17 to file a petition with the full Supreme Court, asking a review of his case. If a petition is filed, the stay will remain in effect until the full court acts finally on it. Whittaker acted on a brief petition for a stay filed late Tuesday by two Washington attorneys.

Favors Reasonable Fees

Ike Urges Physicians Help Fight Inflation

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—President Eisenhower has called upon organized doctors to help write a preventive prescription against inflation in the same way they guard the nation's physical health. And one way, he told the 108th annual meeting of the American Medical Assn. Tuesday night, is by charging reasonable fees for medical care. He made no accusation that doctors were charging unreasonable rates. Asks Doctors to Help In his speech he hammered anew at what he termed the urgent need for a balanced federal budget. "For those who will take the trouble to look, there is no difficulty in seeing the relationship between fiscal responsibility and a successful, meaningful life for all in a climate of freedom," he said. "I am confident that you doctors as community leaders in great urban centers and in the villages and farm areas of America, can do much to promote greater understanding of the importance of this vital relationship. "So I believe that, as you show us how better to preserve our own health, you can do a great service to yourselves, and to all of us, as you teach that the future of our republic and the free world depends upon our ability to maintain fiscal soundness in government, a robust economy, and a stable dollar."

He led up to this by saying that "the medical profession as much as any other, has a vital interest in preventing inflation." "Certainly," the President said, "it wants to provide its services for a fee within range of what people can reasonably pay."

Cautions on U. S. Role

As though cautioning against any possibility of the government moving into the medical care field on a large scale Eisenhower said: "If the time ever comes when large numbers of our citizens turn primarily to the government for assistance in what ought to remain a private arrangement between doctor and patient, then we shall have suffered a great loss."

"The cost of inflation is not paid in dollars alone, but in increasingly stagnated progress, lost opportunities, and eventually, if unchecked, in lost freedoms for the doctor and patient."

The chief executive trimly dressed in a summer formal suit—spoke to a capacity audience of more than 5,000 at Convention Hall.

Whitmore With Taylor Credit

Alton C. Whitmore Jr. of Orlando Street has been selected as the local representative of Taylor Credit, Inc. Mr. Whitmore's duties will include servicing the subscribers of the Taylor Credit system as well as hiring and training a staff of salesmen in this four-county area. The Gloversville office, which is the home of the nine-state credit protection firm, has announced that Mr. Whitmore may be contacted June 15 when his duties begin. Mr. Whitmore, who has been employed by Nadler's for the past year, was formerly manager of the auto financing department of the Rondout National Bank and the time sales department of the Farmers and Mechanics National Bank of Frederick, Md. A veteran of the army, he attended Strafers College of Accountancy in Washington, D. C., and Pace University of New York City. His wife and three children have lived at the Orlando Street address since coming to Kingston shortly after his military duties. Wrong Flight HONOLULU (AP)—Tired, he boarded the plane and dozed off. Waking, he looked out of the window and saw the blue Pacific. Richard Fuerst had intended to go to Chicago. He arrived in Honolulu. He told the stewardess he apparently went through the wrong gate at Burbank, Calif. The pilot suggested he remain a day as the airline's guest. But Fuerst, of Marinette, Wis., insisted: "Got to get to Chicago." After a 2-hour Hula holiday, he caught a plane for the mainland.

New Paltz Ace Advances in Tennis Tourney

Finals Slated
This Afternoon
At Ulster School

Gordon Krajna, New Paltz State Teachers College freshman star, has advanced to the semi-finals of the first annual tournament of the New York State Inter-Collegiate Athletic conference, being held at the State Teachers College in New Paltz.

The unbeaten star was scheduled to play Larry Siegal of Cortland in a semi-final match this morning. In another semi, Henry Vix of Cortland was matched against Fred Miers of Plattsburgh. The finals are scheduled this afternoon.

Teams from State University of New York Teachers colleges at Albany, Cortland, New Paltz, Oneonta, Plattsburgh and Potsdam entered the competition. Dr. Charles P. Wolbers, New Paltz tennis coach, is host for the tourney.

The biggest upset in the opening day of play was scored by John Burrows of Potsdam. He beat Bob Kamps, the Albany ace and seeded third in the tourney, in straight sets. Kamps experienced one of his worst days and he missed many opportunities.

Krajna, who hails from Buffalo, beat Ted Vesneski, Albany, 6-4, 6-2, and Don Feder, Potsdam, 6-3, 6-2, to earn his semi-final berth. Siegal knocked off final berth. Siegal knocked off final berth. Siegal knocked off final berth.

The doubles finals promises to be a thriller with Krajna and Jack Gajle of New Paltz matched against Siegal and Vix of Cortland.

Baltimore Tied for AL Lead Cardinals Belt Spahn, 12-3

Get Decision
Over Indians:
Yanks Win, 9-8

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Orioles are tied for the American League lead! Never since Baltimore returned to the majors in 1954, have the Birds been in first place after the first few days of a season.

They did it by belting Cleveland's suddenly dead Indians 7-3 Tuesday night while Washington beat the Chicago White Sox 7-4. That left the White Sox and Orioles with 29-24 records and a 1/2-game lead over third-place Cleveland in one of the closest AL pennant races ever.

There's only a 1/2-game spread from top to bottom. New York's defending champions finally reached .500 with a 9-8, 13-inning victory over Kansas City that hoisted the Yankees from sixth into a fourth place tie with Detroit, beaten 5-2 at Boston. Both are only 2 1/2 games behind the leaders.

Kansas City, now sixth, trails by only three games. Seventh-place Washington is five games behind with Boston last, 5 1/2 back.

The castoffs, players labeled expendable by other clubs, did the job as the Orioles handed the Indians their ninth defeat in 10 games. Gene Woodling, who even Manager Paul Richards once traded away, and Chico Carrasquel, peddled by the White Sox, Indians and A's, each belted two - run homers. And Billy Loe, once with the Dodgers and the guy Baltimore tried to dump this spring, saved it with another fine relief job.

Ernie Johnson the right-hander Milwaukee didn't want, won it.

Williams, Musial May Miss All-Star Contest

For the first time in nearly two decades, the names of Ted Williams and Stan Musial may not grace the rosters of the All-Stars when the National and American League's best meet in the annual game at Pittsburgh, July 7.

Williams spent the 1943-44 and 1952-53 campaigns in the service and thus trails Musial in total appearances 15-14.

The All-Stars, as was done last year, will be selected by the players and the pitchers will be named by the managers. Official announcement of the teams will be made at the end of this month.

But if the teams were being named now, here is how they would most likely line up: (American League first — two players for each position).

FIRST BASE — Bill Skowron, Yankees; Vic Power, Indians; Orlando Cepeda, Giants; Frank Robinson, Reds.

SECOND BASE — Nellie Fox, White Sox; Pete Runnels, Red Sox; John Temple, Reds, Bill Mazeroski, Pirates.

THIRD BASE — Eddie Yost, Tigers; Harmon Killebrew, Senators; Eddie Mathews, Braves; Ken Boyer, Braves.

CATCHER — Yogi Berra, Yankees; Gus Triandos, Orioles; Del Crandall, Braves; Smokey Burgess, Pirates.

PITCHERS — Hoyt Wilhelm, Orioles; Don Larsen, Yankees; Frank Lary, Tigers; Herb Score, Indians; Whitey Ford, Yankees; Billy Pierce, White Sox; Cal McLish, Indians; Lew Burdette, Braves; Jack Sanford, Giants; Elroy Face, Pirates; Warren Spahn, Braves; Johnny Antonelli, Giants; Johnny Podres, Dodgers; Wilmer Mizell, Cardinals.

EXTRA BENCH MEN — Infielder Frank Malzone, Red Sox; catcher Sherman Lollar, White Sox; infielder Ed Bouchee, Phils; infielder Charley Neal, Dodgers.

Jury to Probe Owego Police Chief's Sojourn

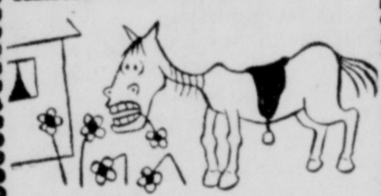

OWEGO, N. Y. (AP)—A Tioga County grand jury reconvened here today, reportedly to investigate the Owego Police Department, whose chief disappeared for a week recently.
Dist. Atty. George L. Boldman declined Tuesday night to say why the panel had been called into session. He said, however, that it would look into a matter that developed since the grand jury recessed three weeks ago.

Police Chief G. Howard Branning, 39, left Owego May 18, during a state audit of police and other village records. He returned May 24 and submitted his resignation May 25, effective June 16. Branning, now on a leave of absence, said he resigned because of a lack of cooperation. Through counsel, he said that police records were in order, as far as he knew. His counsel also said, at the time of Branning's resignation, that the police chief intended to make himself available until the special audit was completed. Boldman has said he requested the state audit because he "thought the move advisable."
It was reported that all members of the police force except Branning had been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury.

QUESTION: A neighbor of ours kept his daughter's saddle horse in his back yard overnight and the horse got out and ruined another neighbor's shrub. Is this damage covered by Comprehensive Personal Liability Insurance?

ANSWER: Yes, that is only one of the many fine coverages afforded by this very inexpensive insurance.
